Edition 2/02

Strategic Growth Solutions Brings Relief through Asset Based Funding

The business climate over the last 16-18 months has left a great deal of apprehension and reservation on the part of investors and bankers to supply operating capital. Strategic Growth Solutions works with a network of nationwide lenders offering unique programs backed by both institutional and private money. Although some loan programs may be at a slightly higher rate than traditional bank loans, they could mean the difference of staying in business, or not. SGS can analyze the company's assets and present the best programs available to match your current situation and to guide you through the qualification, submission and funding process.

Based on your specific company qualifications and credit worthiness, below are descriptions of a few available loan programs:

- Doctors, dentists and veterinarians owning a practice may qualify for operating capital with a simple one-page application and no financials.
- Software development projects including code completion, customization, training, support, packaged software and necessary computer hardware may qualify your company for a unique technology loan.

- Accounts receivables from a strong customer base can generate up to 90% of the outstanding balance in immediate cash for the company.
- Purchase orders may be sufficient to generate letters of credit as payment to the manufacturer for the start-up or continuation of production.
- SBA loans may be available to start a company, restructure debt, or eliminate high interest notes to free up working capital.
- Sell/Leasebacks of heavy equipment or computer hardware generates instant operating capital.

SGS can provide your company with a free consultation to determine if there is a loan program available to support your company's needs!
